*Tolerance of + - 7 mm. This length tolerance does not affect the internal length, which always remains the same, but rather the length that results from taking the measurements following the requested method, which does not take into account the production process by which the shoes are manufactured, injection and that such variations may result.

If what you want is to know the length for the foot, we strongly suggest marking the internal length, marked by the last and that it will never undergo variations.

10. STORAGE INSTRUCTIONS

When not in use, store the footwear in a well-ventilated area away from extremes of temperature. Never store the footwear underneath heavy items or in contact with sharp objects. If the footwear is wet, allow it to dry slowly and naturally away from direct heat sources before placing it into storage.

Use suitable protective packaging to transport the footwear.
